ALLEGATIONS MADE EDWARD C. RITCHER TOOK MONEY RUNNING INTO THOUSANDS.

BELOIT COLLEGE IS VICTIM

Said to Have Been Molested of $127,000—Money Bank in Wall Street—Client and Partners Lose—Suits in Writed At.

Chicago—Edward C. Ritcher, special counsel for John R. Walsh during his fight against government prosecution and who died last June, is accused of being a defaulter to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The accusation made public Thursday comes upon the people of Chicago as suddenly as did the news of the death of John R. Walsh's favorite son, the Chicago lawyer who was the good name of the dead lawyer as many a Chicagoer knows. Ritcher, a partner in the law firm of Ritcher, Walsh & Co., is accused of having been a defaulter to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Trustees of Beloit college, of which Ritcher was custodian and security, and the deceased attorney's legal associates decided to suffer whatever losses they may have sustained in silence and not to stir the charges against the noted lawyer.

Discovery of Ritcher's alleged duplicity was made shortly before his death. While in New York he was summoned to Chicago by his partners and asked to make restitution and explanation. Ritcher, who had been making an appointment to meet his partners in Chicago, had arrived two or three days before the meeting. He did not appear. He was not seen for several days. ## COAL STRIKE IS AT AN END

OPERATORS AGREE TO GRANT DEMANDS MADE BY MINERS.

PEORIA SCALE WILL STAND

Agreement Reached at Conference Held in Chicago Between Mine Operators and Miners.

Chicago—Illinois coal operators have decided to yield to the demands of the miners. An agreement based on the Peoria contract was practically reached at a conference held in this city between committees of the Illinois Coal Operators' association and the Illinois body of the United Mine Workers of America, and only minor details pertaining to working conditions remain to be agreed upon.

On April 1 about 70,000 miners in Illinois laid down their tools and awaited the outcome of an agreement. The Illinois miners held out, though, on the question of payment of shut-downs. The conference was later called in Peoria May 21 in an effort to reach a settlement. The operators refused, however, to grant the demands of the miners, and negotiations were broken off, turning what had theretofore been merely a suspension into a strike of 70,000 miners. The strike was called by the operators, who had realized at work according to an agreement between the operators and the miners, and negotiations were broken off by the union.

In June the fifth and sixth districts of the state decided from the rank of the Illinois coal operators and miners. Since then operators have been capitulating one by one to different parts of the strike. The number of the men has been reduced to about 10,000.

At the request of T. L. Lewis, industrial president of the miners, a joint committee was formed to handle the strike.

AMBUANCE KILLS WOMAN

Was On Way To Get Sallor Who Had Been Hit By An Automobile—Man Also Injured.

Cleveland, O.—Gallagher, motordriver, the crowded public square on a hill to West Third street, where a salar had been hit by an automobile, an ambulance plunged into a throng of street car passengers, instantly killing Mrs. Ferdinand Schlegel, aged 57.

Delayed by the mobbing of the ambulance driver, Charles Gorman, who was saved by a squad of police, caused the death of the auto victim, Mrs. Schlegel's husband, 75 years old, is believed to be dying also, his injuries being critical because of his age. His arm was broken and he was cut and bruised.

The ambulance dashed into the crowd awaiting cars without raising its bell, which later was found to have been broken. Gorman attempted to throw his horse, but failed.

OFFICIAL DROPPED DEAD

Warden of Indiana Penitentiary Drowned During Excursion Caused by Fire.

Michigan City, Ind.—During a fire at the Indiana state prison here, Warden James D. Held dropped dead of heart trouble while on an excursion.

The fire started in a storeroom among some rags, presumably from spontaneous combustion, and the warden and other prison officials collected there to assist in getting it under control, with the aid of the city fire department and a fire brigade from the prison.

The fire was suppressed before much damage had been done, but the warden, after considerable agitation, suddenly dropped to the floor and expired.

Warden Held was one of the most noted prison men in the country. He had been warden of the prison since 1901, coming from South Bend. He was 52 years old.

KENTUCKY GLEANINGS

WHAT IS GOING ON IN DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

CALL FOR ORPHAN BRIGADE.

Official Call for Annual Reunion Issued by President Weiler.

Louisville—The following call has been issued by Capt. John H. Weiler, president of the Orphan brigade of the Confederate army, for the next annual reunion of the veterans of that command.

Louisville, Aug. 29.—The annual reunion of the First Kentucky brigade of infantry of the Confederate army, and of the First Kentucky cavalry, will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 1 and 2, at Franklin, Simpson county, Ky. All members of the brigade in question who can possibly do so, are urged to attend this reunion. There will be but few more members of our command.

The "gray line" grows thinner day by day. Soon the last one will have "crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees." We should not omit this, possibly our last opportunity, to touch elbow, exchange more pleasant memories of the days that never can come again.

JAIL DELIVERY.

Four Short-Term Prisoners Escaped From Prison at Glasgow.

Glasgow—Will Goodhue, Charles Parrell, Will Ross and James Cook, who were in the county jail here, made their escape. When Capt. Nathan Burke, the jailer, was notified, he had the prisoners of the escape. He found the keys in the door. How the prisoners got possession of the keys is a mystery. Other prisoners who were in the jail at the time did not witness the escape but conflicting stories.

The most plausible theory is that a confederate acquainted with the jailer passed the keys from the jailer's room and passed them to the prisoners, who were being allowed the freedom of the corridor. The getaway could have been accomplished in a few minutes.

STRANGE INCIDENT.

Man Arrested for Murder on Funeral Train of Victim.

Headerton.—The unusual occurrence of arresting a person charged with murder on a funeral train, is making his escape on the funeral train of his alleged victim, took place here when the funeral train of the late John H. Burton, a coal miner, aged 30 years, of Shelburn, Ind., into custody and lodged him in the Kentucky state prison. He is charged with shooting P. J. Staples (twice) and killing him at the mine No. 4 in Sullivan county, Ind.

The body of Staples was in the baggage car of the train, and Burton was riding on the cushions of the smoker. Two men, who were members of the funeral party that was taking the corpse to a point in Daviess county for interment, passed through the smoker, where they saw Burton and recognized him.

When the train arrived at Headerton these two members of the funeral party proceeded to notify Officer Lonerberger, who arrested Burton.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Will J. Fields, of Carter county, as a candidate for Congress in the Ninth district of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Weather Chief at Washington says it's no use to shoot up in the sky to make it rain. Besides, it's dangerous to the ship man.

TOM WARREN, of Georgia, like the celebrated Finnegan, is "off again, on again, gone again." He has hardly got back into the Democratic party before he has been shot at by the Congressmen. He has Smith and Congressman Hawke, both recently nominated.

SEBASTIAN DOLAN, of Iowa, spokesman for the insurgent Republican, intimates that Col. Roosevelt may be the Presidential candidate of the insurgents. Teddy has come out for an elaborate program of progressive measures.

The American Tobacco Co. is quoted as denying that it has bought the 1900 pooled Burley tobacco, and its position is being having a sufficient supply on hand, and estimating the 1910 crop at $50,000,000. But, you can't always or hardly ever judge what a trust means that it says.

The new census gives New York City 4,766,883 population. London has about 7,600,000. At their present rate of increase they will each have 11,200,000 in 1920. However, neither is likely to keep up its present rate of increase. People may be too reasonable by that time to want to crowd all together in one ugly artificial life of a great city.

NEAR Divide, Colorado, in one of the wildest parts of the Rocky mountains, last week a train robber held up Engineer Frank Stewart, Pitt and Fireman. The Colorado Midland train, with intent to rob the express car, had been dodged under the train, and as the robber was trying to shoot at him Stewart struck the robber in the head with a rock, the robber at that instant diving turned and fired at Stewart, hitting him in the leg. The robber was almost instantly killed by the rock. Stewart deserves a hero medal.

On Friday night, while making a call on the Tipton & Graves pike, Dr. R. E. May drove in to Hinkston, thinking it was fordable. The water was high and very swift, and the horse could not swim across with the buggy.

So doctor and horse buggy found down stream, the horse getting out of the water, and the buggy stuck fast. Doctor managed to reach the bank and summoned help. The Stackhouse swam in and cut the horse loose, but it could not be gotten to the bank until Saturday morning, when it came out unhurt. No serious damage was done, though it surely was a scare.

HAD TO DECLINE.—A Paducah negro, known as "Mose," works in the vinegar factory of Oscar Gregory, a bluesman boy, who has made his mark in the city. He works in a vinegar factory, who is not doubled up with some other man. One day, recently, his employer discovered Mose tied into a knot, in a corner. The darkey explained, between groans, that he suffered from cramps. Now upstairs in a bottle was a quantity of crude kalamata ginger, hot as an orthodox. Hades and strong as the biceps of Sharkey.

The proprietor took the tightly-knit negro up into his office and gave him a heroic dose of the stuff. The cramps died out—were burned to death in fact.

HE THOUGHT IT WAS FROG.—Walter, a bright little boy of a few years, had some years, went to the lesson in Sunday-school about the man at the pool of Bethesda. When asked what caused the healing of the writers, he said, "Well, teacher, they thought it was angels, but I think it was frogs."

DR FOGY.—"Miss Binga, called on you last night, did I not?" "What an odd question! Of course you did."

"W-w-well I just wanted to say that if I proposed to you I was drunk."

"To ease your mind, I will say that if I accepted you I was crazy."

A PHANTASMA-GOBLIN.—I thought I saw a gummy sack a-walking down the street. I looked again, and, lo! away me! That gummy sack had feet!

Says she: "Why Hiram Brown, That's just our summer boarder. In her one-piece linen gown."

DID NOT SUSPECT.—A farmer and his wife killed their last hog and left the carcass out at night to cool. It was gone next morning.

They agreed to say nothing, and the first person mentioning their loss was the thief. Sunday the preacher read out the text: "I have meat to eat that ye know not of." Judging his parishioners, he said, "I never did suspect him, did we?"—Ex.

SOMETHING HAPPENED.—One of the trains on a transcontinental line which passes through Kansas City and usually late was reported on time a few evenings ago.

The young man who writes the particulars about the trains at the station put down the statistics concerning this train: "No. 616, from the west, on time. When he wrote underneath: 'Cause unknown.'—Saturday Evening Post.

CONFUSION OF WORDS.—The newspapers recount how Colonel Roosevelt was asked out of a few nights ago and made to speak in his pajamas. Which recalls an indignant telegram a few days ago as follows: "Story is a lie out of whole cloth; probably fabricated by enemies to ruin me politically. As for the whole lot of abstainers, but never had pajamas last night nor any other time."—Hartford Herald.

HOW IT WAS.—Against an angry negro, charged with stealing a pig, the evidence was absolutely conclusive, and the Judge, who knew the old dorky well, said reproachfully:

"Now, uncle, why did you steal that pig?"

"Bekase mah pool family was starvin', yo honor," whimpered the old man.

"Family starvin'?" cried the Judge. "How did you keep five dogs. How is that, uncle?"

"Why, yo honor," said uncle, reproachfully, "I spect mah family to eat dem dogs."—Harper's Magazine.

ONE SIDE ENOUGH.—Senator William Alden Smith says the evident desire of Col. Roosevelt to listen to the claims of the surgeons and Regulars places him in a different category from an Irish Justice of the Peace out in Michigan. In a trial the evidence was all in, and the plaintiff's attorney had made a long and very eloquent argument, when the lawyer acting for the defense arose.

"What are you doing?" asked the Justice, as the lawyer began.

"Going to present our side of the case."

"I don't want to hear both sides argued. It has a tendency to confuse the court."—Washingtonian.

A WILY WILL.—"I was called in by a close-fisted old merchant the other day," a Boston lawyer remarked, smiling. "He wanted me to draw his will, and I proceeded to do, following his verbal instructions. Presently he said:

"To each and every clerk who has been in my employ for ten years I give $10,000."

"I considered that a considerable sum to me, and I ventured a slight protest, as he had a number of clerks, and his entire fortune was not large."

"Oh, that's all right," he said, with a little crooked smile. "You know people have always said that I was close and hard, and I want them to think well of me when I am gone."

"I was a little touched, and I said so, but he waived it aside and we continued with the will. When he had finished, and I was about to leave the office, the old fellow smiled again his little crooked smile."

"About these $10,000 legacies," he said, "there isn't a clerk in my place who has been with me for ten years, but it will look well in the papers."

WHERE WAS JOHN?—A San Francisco woman, whose husband had been dead some years, went to a medium, who produced the spirit of her dead husband.

"Yes, dear John," said the widow, "the spirit, 'are you happy now?'"

"I am very happy," John replied. "Happier than you were with me on earth?" she asked.

"Yes," was the answer: "I am not as happy as I was on earth with you."

"Tell me, John, what is it like in heaven?" said John. "I'm not in heaven,"—Lippincott's Magazine.

THE INSIDE FACTS.—About Ben Adams awake and was questioned by the angel:

"Write me," said Mr. Adhem, sticking his right hand inside the bosom of his night shirt and speaking with oratorical fervor, "write me as one who loves his fellowman."

"Come, come," said the angel. "I'm not a reporter; I'm here for the facts."

"In that case, write me down as a candidate for office. I thought you wanted something for the morning papers."
